I would like to vs. I hope that

I would like to is a polite way of expressing something that you want to do now or in the future.

For example: I would like to visit my family.

I would like to is followed by the base form of a verb.

Write 5 sentences about some things that you would like to do next week.

1. _______________________________________________
2. _______________________________________________
3. _______________________________________________
4. _______________________________________________
5. _______________________________________________

I hope that is a way of expressing something that you wish to happen in the future.

For example: I hope that I will enjoy my visit with my family.

I hope that is followed by a subject and the future tense (will + base form of a verb).

Write 5 sentences about some things that you hope will happen next week.

1. _______________________________________________
2. _______________________________________________
3. _______________________________________________
4. _______________________________________________
5. _______________________________________________