

A Role for Non-Profits in Brownfield Redevelopment

issued by

Brownfield Action Project University at Buffalo authored by

Robert S. Berger, Professor
UB School of Law

Thomas F. Disare, Clinical Associate Professor
UB School of Law

Ramon C. Garcia
UB School of Planning and Architecture

G. William Page, Professor
UB School of Planning and Architecture

A. Scott Weber, Professor
UB School of Engineering and Applied Science

Louis P. Zicari, Associate Director
UB Center for Integrated Waste Management

funded by

UB Environment and Society Institute
UB Center for Integrated Waste Management

Table of Contents

	page
Executive Summary	iv
Acknowledgements	xi
About the Authors	xii
Chapter 1. Introduction	1-1
The Brownfield Challenge	1-1
Brownfield Redevelopment Non-Profits	1-3
For Profit Initiatives	1-4
Research Methods	1-5
Organization of Report	1-7
Chapter 2. Articulated Value-Added Claims	2-1
Articulated Claims	2-2
Summary of Non-Profit Responses	2-3
Chapter 3. Evaluation of Value Added Claims	3-1
Claim 1a: More Responsive to Community Needs, and/or More Likely to Address Environmental Justice Issues	3-1
Claim 1b: Able to Target Smaller, More Complicated, and Less Marketable Projects	3-3
Claim 1c: Able to Target Projects that Contribute to Brownfields Research and that Inform Broader Public Policy	3-6
Claim 2a: Proficient at Financial Packaging	3-7
Claim 2b: Have Access to Governmental Grants, Foundation Funding and Other Charitable Capital	3-9
Claim 2c: Better Able to Negotiate Forgiveness of Back Taxes or Provisions of Tax Abatement to Facilitate Property Redevelopment	3-10
Claim 2d: Better Able to Obtain Properties, Money or Services Because They Can Offer Tax Write-offs	3-10
Claim 2e: Better Able to Obtain Pro Bono and Below Market services	3-11
Claim 2f: Freedom from Taxation	3-12
Claim 3a: Have the Specialized Knowledge Required for Brownfield Redevelopment	3-12

Claim 3b: Have the Contacts and Relationships Necessary to Facilitate Brownfield Redevelopment	3-14
Claim 3c: Better Able to Educate About and Advocate for Brownfield Redevelopment	3-15
Claim 3d: Have Up-front Money Available for the Environmental Assessment and Characterization Stage of Brownfield Redevelopment	3-16
Claim 3e: More Likely to be Viewed as a Neutral Party	3-17
Chapter 4. The Viability of a Brownfield Non-Profit in Western New York	4-1
New York Law and Programs	4-2
Western New York Economic Conditions	4-5
Possible Roles for a Non-Profit in Context of Existing Brownfield Redevelopment Efforts in Western New York	4-6
Proposed Not-for-Profit Profile	4-13
Chapter 5. Future Role of the University at Buffalo in Brownfield Redevelopment	5-1
Recommendations for Further Actions	5-2
Brownfield Action Project	5-2
Provide Outreach Assistance	5-3
Catalyze the Formation of a Western New York Brownfields Non-Profit	5-4
Resource Development	5-4
Appendices
A. Contact Information for Surveyed Non-Profits
B. Written Survey Sent to Non-Profits
C. Response Summaries for Contacted Non-Profits
D. Advisory Committee Membership	