PERFORMANCE NOTES

trill or tremolo with small notes in parenthesis

1/4 tone sharp, flat (approximate)

1/4 tone sharp and flat oscillating between the two (approximate) strongest sfz attack possible strongest sfz note release possible

natural harmonic glissando

very high pitch (on the clarinet this is produced by biting down on the reed)

very high sound with a small glissando move from "A" to "B" gradually

Flute and Clarinet

air current noise

multiphonic sound with the highest pitch notated, the strength of the multiphonic's spectral content being specified by the darkness of the rectangle above the note, thus:

minimum, medium, and maximum strength or distortion

Strings

overbow sul ponticello - producing a grinding, grainy sound - the bowing speed is indicated graphically:

slow bowing speed

accelerate bowing speed

Bartok pizzicato - snap the string against the fingerboard

PIZZ l. h.

Playing Techniques Inside the Piano natural harmonic stop produced by lightly touching the string with the fingertip while playing the keyboard with the other hand damp the string just after the tuning pin to produce a quasi-percussive or pizzicato sound while playing on the keyboard with the other hand slap the strings with the palm of the hand in the pitch range notated (pitch cluster is somewhat approximate) pluck string with fingernail use end of stick to:

strike strings percussively

scrape length-wise along the windings of the string glissando on the strings hold against vibrating string to produce a buzzing sound use ball end of stick to:

strike the strings percussively, rub length-wise down a string to produce a quasi-vocal sound roll across strings glissando-like

This page contains measures 84 through 90 of the musical score for "L'Espresso". The score is written for five staves: four single-line staves (likely for woodwinds or strings) and one grand staff at the bottom (piano). Measure numbers are indicated at the top of each system.

- Measure 84: Features complex rhythmic patterns with triplets and sixteenth notes. Dynamics include ff (fortissimo).
- Measure 85: Includes a "harmonic gliss." instruction and a crescendo leading to mf (mezzo-forte).
- Measure 86: Continues the melodic development with various articulations like trills (tr) and slurs.
- Measure 87: Features a "vib. molto poco a poco" (vibrato very little bit by bit) instruction and a "quasi gliss." (quasi-glissando) marking.
- Measure 88: A key moment with a "subito (a - 88 - 90)" tempo change. It includes instructions like "poco a poco più breath" (little by little more breath), "molto vib." (very vibrato), and "meno et meno vib." (less and less vibrato).
- Measure 89: Contains a "flaut molto con legno" (flute much with wood) instruction and a "pizz." (pizzicato) marking.
- Measure 90: Ends with a ritardando ("rit. trill") and a final dynamic of p (piano).

The notation is highly detailed, showing many accidentals, ornaments, and specific performance directions throughout the passage.
