Dunkirk Man Takes Bride at His Station in Louisiana.

Houma, La., May 14.—Miss Lois Ann Champagne of Houma, daughter of Mrs. Elvina Champagne of New Orleans, and Chief Petty Officer Casimir E. Makuch of Dunkirk, who is stationed at the Naval Air Station in Houma, were married the evening of April 28 in the rectory of St. Francis de Sales church here. Monsignor Lucian Caillout officiated. The groom is the son of Mrs. Hedwig Makuch of South Roberts road, Dunkirk.

The bride was attired in a white lace dress, made with a basque waist and wide gored skirt. She wore a white lace hat, trimmed with a shoulder length veil and half crown of carnations. She carried a nosegay of white flowers.

Miss Frances Makuch of Dunkirk, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor, wearing a pink crepe dress. Mrs. Ralph Romine, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore powder blue crepe. The best man was Martin B. Bogus, U. S. N., of Philadelphia.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Elie Pitre of Houma, with whom she has made her home. Easter lilies, daisies and gladioli decorated the house. Mr. and Mrs. Mauch are now residing in Houma.

Household Helps

Now comes an urgent call for every housewife to join the ranks of the paperbag savers. Paper bags and wrappings are among the items seriously affected by the present wartime paper shortage. Manufacturers of bags and wrappings have been cut at least 50 percent in paper supplies over last year. This means that retail stores can no longer be so generous with their wrappings. Pre-packaged articles like boxed crackers and breakfast food from the grocery, tooth paste from the drug store, and face powder from the cosmetic counter may have to be sold without an extra bag or wrapping.

Do not discard the outer leaves of lettuce, cabbage, escarole, turnip, or beet tops. They contain more healthful iron than the inner leaves.

Weather stripping saves $3 to $7 per cent of the fuel on zero days. Make certain during the summer that all windows are equipped with this insulation.

Lamp shades aren't what they used to be since wire for their frames have gone to war, so if your pre-war paper parchment or silk shades look a bit the worse for wear, try giving them this simple rejuvenating treatment.

Clean that old paper parchment lamp shade, which dirt has caused to lose its luster, by wiping—not wetting—it first with a sudsy rag, then one dipped in clear water.

A silk shade usually can be cleaned in a soap suds bath—provided the trimming is not too russy and is sewed on rather than glued—if you'll scrub gently with a brush, rinse and blot dry with a towel.

If your youngsters like to "putter" around the kitchen, let them make milk shakes for themselves. Milk is, of course, necessary to good health and, if they dislike "plain" milk, this may help fill their daily needs.

The children will be delighted if they have a shaker of their own, even if it's only a mason jar. Incidentally, they'll be more interested in cleaning up the kitchen, too, if they have their own equipment.

Chimney flues and smoke pipes should be cleaned at least once each year — preferably in the spring at the end of the heating season. Heating surfaces of boilers and furnaces also need frequent cleaning. There are special clean-out doors in most heating plants through which this cleaning can be done conveniently.

CLASSES EXHIBIT STUDENT PROJECTS

Parents invited to see work at High School Library.

All the classes in social studies at the Dunkirk High school, from the seventh through the twelfth year, have been busy for the past few months preparing projects. They are now completed, and are on exhibit in the library of the school. Parents and friends are invited to see the exhibit Wednesday.

The projects are carried out under the new state program of social studies, designed to help students enjoy experiences derived from the social heritage of their own people and of other nations. In carrying out a project, the student does research work, collected pictorial material and illustrates his theme with literature, music and other art.

The projects being exhibited are those selected by the teachers as excellent. This afternoon Supt. Thomas E. Harnay, Principal R. W. Hayes and Asst. Principal Viola Cox will select prize-winners in each group.

The general theme for the 12th grade, or high school seniors, has been "Problems of Democracy". Students whose projects are exhibited are Anna Marie Casale, Doris Jean Haas, Marion Hempill, Emily Newell, Marjorie Newell, Albert Ossman, Carol Pfeleger, Herbert Ranney, John Rowe, Douglas Simpson, Barbara Wirtner.

The 11th grade worked on "American Institutions", juniors whose projects were selected being Jane Braun, Nancy Carlyon, Mary Ann Braun, Harold Hudson, Joan Johnson, Genevieve Naruszewicz, Jacqueline Reber.

The theme for the 10th grade was "World Institutions", with projects of William Kono, Sylvia Krochmal, Elaine Mekus, Anne Perkins, Stephen Sekula, Margaret Wilcox, Sally Wood, Berniece Zimmerman and Lois Short selected.

The freshmen, or ninth grade, worked on "Our Economic World". The work of William Barris, Joane Baumgartner, Nicholas Cellino, Irene Chrabasz, Norma Jean Cloos, Frederick Keopke, Mary Louise Kern, John Killian, Mary Ann Larson, Ralph Moch, Frances Parlato, Julia Smogaz, Florence Wysocki, is exhibited.

"Our American Heritage" was the subject of 8th year projects done by David Batcheller, Richard Dietzen, Patricia Domst, Albert Fisk, Helen Hardt, Nyia Rudd, Joan Scholtes.

The 7th grade had "Our Com-
