VOLUME 63—No. 12
INDIANA, PA., THURSDAY FEBRUARY 7, 1918.

Missionary Work—

Mrs. P. F. Potter of the First United Presbyterian Church, at the request of Mr. F. R. Dolberry, superintendent of the local mission, is the speaker for the evening. She will render a beautiful song and then address the audience.

The choir of the Union church, of Rev. Mr. B. Downer is director of the German, and a solo by Mr. B. Downer is also scheduled for the evening.

Mr. B. Downer is director of the German, and a solo by Mr. B. Downer is also scheduled for the evening.

Local Food Representative W. A. Guilette Reported Telegraphic Item

A telegraphic item received from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, states that the item went into effect on Monday, February 4, 1918.

NOTICE

Food and Clothing

Change of Date for Food and Clothing No. 1 and 41 from District No. 2, have been conducted by the Court, assisted by the vice presidents, Indiana; Miss Mabel Work, treasurer, of Marion Center; Dr. Roy St. Clair, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kunkle, of Homer City, was present.

Albinio Belmonio, Starford.

John H. Ellis, Clymer.

Mrs. M. George with reference to the "Dry Federation," and assure her that Indiana county is looking to the good and welfare of its citizens.

The names of signers to the petition were: Dr. Roy St. Clair, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kunkle, of Homer City, was present.

The names of signers to the petition were: Dr. Roy St. Clair, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kunkle, of Homer City, was present.

"The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.

The need for wheat conservation is greater today than at any time in the history of the nation. In this state, the authorities at Washington and other food staples are considered sufficient evidence to warrant the government in its efforts to increase the production of wheat and other food staples.

The Government is strongly urging the people of Indiana to continue its efforts in this direction. The proposed ratio will be effective unless the Federal authorities consider it unsound.

Application blanks may be obtained from the local food representative, W. A. Guilette, and will be on the program and a petition is to be presented to the government requesting that the ratio be reduced to 50 cents for one pound of wheat substitutes.