Back Up American Army of Occupation

While the infantry of the American troops were advancing on the Danube road, a sudden excitement took place among the Allies. It was discovered that the Germans had surrendered their capital to the Allies. The American Army of Occupation entered the city. There were cheers and rejoicings everywhere. The news spread like wild fire. People came out of their houses to see the German Army surrender. There was no fighting. The German soldiers laid down their arms and marched to the Allies. The American troops were received with great enthusiasm. The Germans were taken prisoner and placed in a fleet of coasters, which were sent to the United States. The Allies occupied the city and made it their headquarters. The German Emperor and his family were taken to the United States as prisoners of war. The news of the surrender spread like wild fire. The people in the United States were delighted. They were glad to see the Germans surrendered. The Allies were now in control of the city.
