Indiana County Shriners Ladies Night Banquet

Indiana County Shrine Club members entertained their ladies at the second annual banquet last night in the Eagles Home, 224 reservations had been made, and these guests were seated night club style at tables for four, instead of the usual long banquet table. Each lady found a corsage beside her plate. Shriners not wearing their Fez were fined.

After the group had sung America, Edwin M. Clark gave the invocation. Dr. Wilbur Black, president, conducted a brief business meeting during which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Kenneth Sink, vice-president Kenneth Nicely, secretary, James Bragg and treasurer, William P. Moorhead.

Members of the Divan of Jaffa Temple who were present included Dr. Garman of Barnesboro, Assistant Rabban, J. Steven Baird, Oriental Guide, and Mrs. Baird.

Homer I Smith, immediate past potentate, and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Winter, captain of the guard Ed Clark and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clough, and many other guests.
