Reforming Qatar's Kafala System

As you read the material for our next class, keep the questions below in mind. To answer these questions you will have to reflect critically on what you have read and possibly re-read important passages. Keep in mind that there are two basic kinds of information that you need to look for in the reading:

1. What are the main points or conclusions that an author accepts with respect to a particular issue?
2. What are the reasons, important considerations, and evidence that lead the author to accept that conclusion?

For our purposes, it is information of the second sort that will be our primary concern since our most basic task is to evaluate the reasons and evidence that are offered to support accepting one possible conclusion about an issue, rather than another.

Although I strongly suggest that you write out brief answers to these questions, you do not have to turn in written responses. You do, however, need to be prepared to speak intelligently about these issues at our next class meeting.

- Amnesty International, "A System that Permits Abuse and Traps Workers".
- Case Study, "Reforming Qatar's Kafala System".

Questions

1. Amnesty International focuses on three areas for improvement in Qatar: (1) the sponsorship (kafala) system, (2) the Qatar Labour Law, and (3) the justice system. What does Amnesty International claim is wrong with each of these areas? What improvements for each does its report recommend?
2. In response to this, and other reports about labor in Qatar, several reforms to the kafala system and Labour Laws have been proposed. What are these? Are these enough to protect the rights of workers?
