

Figure S3. Transcripts that are translationally repressed after DRBD18 depletion normally have higher abundance than those that are translationally enhanced. Available datasets (Kolev et al. 2010) were used to plot the values of transcript abundance (mRNA copies per cell) for each gene in the TE UP or TE DOWN categories.